Compares Democratic Administration With Previous Republican Record.

On Friday, the city of Ada and considerable representations from portions throughout the county gave over to democratic visitors who preached the virtues of democracy and presented claims for office in the future. It was democratic day in Ada.

Large delegations arrived on the morning trains from points throughout the county and by 11 o'clock, at which hour the governor and party arrived, there were hundreds of people thronging the streets. The reception committee, with band, met Governor Haskell at the train and in carriages escorted the Governor and Mrs. Haskell through Main street to the airdome where an immense crowd awaited to hear his address on law enforcement. The route through Main street was featured by the student body and faculty of the East Central Normal lining the sidewalk and cheering vociferously the governor's carriage as it passed. The college yell played its part, too. Rak-a-ty, yak-a-ty, yak-a-ty, yak, Rak-a-ty, yak-a-ty, yak-a-ty, yak, Hullabaloo, hullabaloo, How do you do—how do you do, Haskell.

The pretty women covered the governor and his lady with beautiful bouquets, wreaths and roses, an expression of admiration and respect was evident throughout the march.

On reaching the Airdome, the governor was escorted to the rostrum, where he was received by the reception committee of the W. C. T. U., where they were seated. The governor was introduced by President Briles, of the Normal in appropriate remarks and for forty-five minutes Governor Haskell made a genuine, straight from the shoulder law enforcement and prohibition speech. He deplored that people would criticize their county officers and yet would and had, during their term, refused to co-operate and encourage them in the performance of their duties. He dwelt at length on doctrine of personal rights and made unanswerable points to show that where public and private interests conflicted the private must yield to the public or community interests. He stated that the home was the fundamental unit of government, that where a condition sought to disturb or demoralize the home it should be remedied or prohibited. "If the state of drunkenness bet-would have had him born drunk, but as man was born sober, it is reasonable to believe that it while in this state man can best conserve his own interests and interests of the community."

In the afternoon, democracy had its inning. The large auditorium was filled to its capacity at 2 o'clock when Capt. Fisher called the house to order, introducing Judge Leslie Maxie, who introduced the number of candidates for state offices who were here in the interest of their candidacy. Those present were: W. H. L. Campbell, candidate for clerk of supreme court, Gordon and Taylor, candidates for the same office; M. E. Trapp and Bob Dunlop, candidates for state treasurer; W. F. Gilmer, for state auditor; Hon. Clint Graham, for attorney General; Leo Meyer, for secretary of state; Hon. Tucker and Senator Strange, candidates for corporation commissioner; Chas. K. Taylor, present examiner and inspector, candidate for reelection. These gentlemen were given three minutes in which to present their claims before the democratic voters.

Today, we, of Pontotoc county, are honored by the presence of distinguished guests, and before I proceed with the pleasant duty of presenting the speaker of the day, I desire to call attention to the presence of the governor's wife, Mrs. C. N. Haskell, and on behalf of the city, especially the ladies, I desire to bid her welcome. I am quite well acquainted with Mrs. Haskell, and I want to say to you, confidentially, that she writes all of the governor's speeches.

It is an esteemed privilege to present to you, my friends, not only the governor of Oklahoma, but a man whose life and activities have been so vividly associated with the making of this commonwealth and who, during the brief history of Oklahoma, has so ably led the democratic party to victory and control, and who, as you will soon observe, is capable of convincing the doubtful mind that the first administration of Oklahoma, the administration of Oklahoma democracy, has creditably administered the duties entrusted by a confiding and intelligent suffrage. It is easily discerned that out of chaos and disorder, wrought by republican control, there has been produced a commonwealth which reflects honor and credit in the realm of free government.

Is what gives all clothes style and permanency of shape; it is the vital feature of clothes making and without it any garment will soon lose its shape.

Hart, Schaffner & Marx

are well tailored throughout. They have a graceful, pleasing shape that is worked into the garments as they are made and which guarantees permanent and lasting style.

This season is a lively one in the variety of weaves and patterns. Gray seems to lead, plain grays, checks, stripes, plaids, all sorts of mixtures; also a big range of good blues in all patterns, some lined and half lined, some silk lined. The pants, some are plain, others in half peg and some full peg with a 3 inch turn at bottom.

We're pretty certain if you once determine you want permanency in shape, "quality," style and an all wool suit, you'll come to us for your clothes.

Now in his new store, corner of Main and Broadway, Ada, Oklahoma

By way of digression, I would like to say right here to my republican or socialist friends, who, perchance, may be hopeful of the future, that you had just as well endeavor to disturb the foundation of Gibraltar's rock as to supplant democracy in Oklahoma with modern republicanism. My memory of Chas. N. Haskell in the constitutional convention inspires admiration and respect, for he led in the writing of that document of human rights which represents the conviction of a people who love freedom and equality. Because he championed the magna charta of Oklahoma, because he bore the tremendous responsibility as its chief executive, of launching a modern state. Because he has brought order and system out of republican debris and ruin. Because he led in the battle to strike from our limbs the shackles of republican despotism, I take pleasure in presenting to you Governor Chas. N. Haskell, of Oklahoma.

After brief reference to the introductory remarks of Carlton Weaver, the governor said:

There are some people in Oklahoma with whom I do not agree as to the purposes of government. By their practices for 17 years in Oklahoma Territory they demonstrated the fact that they believed the purposes of government was to furnish jobs for little bunches of grafters. My notion of government is, it is for the purpose of furnishing a great mass of people with the protection that the common people need against the invasion of the strong, the powerful, those who have lived from the products of your toil. I do not divide the human family by political lines, I divide them entirely different.

From years of observation, I cannot avoid the conclusion, however, that there are two great classes of American citizenship. The first class I would call the producing class. It includes not the farmer alone, but the mechanic, the business man, the professional man, in so far as their policy of life is to live upon their own industry, those who are willing by their muscle, or genius or education to apply those powers and be satisfied with the returns therefrom.

The other class I call the parasite class. The definition of the word explains itself. It includes those who toil not, but who, by their favoritism of law or unfair means enables them to grow fat upon the earnings

I do not seek to array the producing class against the parasite, but to destroy the parasite class you must destroy the opportunities that enable him to exist. I do not consider that it is the policy of a just government to legalize grand larceny. If these are the two great classes of our people, then we must admit the foolishness of the producing class dividing their power, thereby permitting the parasite class to win the day.

We cannot close our eyes in Oklahoma today to the fact that the republican party of our state has had the will of its multitude of members of fair mind and intent thwarted by the strangle hold of the remnants of the old machine, whose reign in Territorial days was a scene of graft by day and revelry by night. So long as their dictation is present in

party, just so long must every right thinking republican citizen blush at its leadership. They have no patriotism that would promote the welfare of their state, nor spread its good name abroad in the land. They would discredit their adopted state, destroy its opportunities for a prominent place in the nation, condemn with ridicule and slander, and thereby destroy its credit abroad, and self respect at home.

It devolves upon the right thinking men of the republican party to rise in their might, destroy this corrupt leadership, and place their party management on the high plain that the memory of a Lincoln entitles them to occupy, and then, and not until then, can the principles of government upon which honest men may honestly differ, be the issues of campaign, and the subject of moderate intelligent discussion, and when this time comes, and with it the principles of Jefferson, the basis for democratic contention, will both political parties at least make common cause for the best interest of the producing class as Lincoln and Jefferson themselves would both espouse but both will then condemn
the parasite class, and destroy the special legislation that has made the parasite class a possibility, and clothed their extravagant opportunities with legislative and judicial approval. Then will both political parties according to their sincere judgment seek to produce.

Cost of State Government.

Let us see first what your state government should fairly cost, and second let us consult the official records to see what it does actually cost.

As this is the first period of state government, of course, there is no opportunity to compare the present with the past in Oklahoma, and that leaves us only to compare the first period of state government in Oklahoma with some older state where many years of state government has furnished a history for comparison and therefore, I shall select the state of Kansas as a basis for Oklahoma's campaign. I select Kansas because it is substantially the same size, and probably the equal of Oklahoma in population. Since Kansas has had many years to organize its state government, supply itself with the necessities of government, I claim it would be fair to say that Kansas should operate its state government on less money than Oklahoma at this time when we have many new things to buy, and items of expense that should not be called for after a few more years of organized government. However, we will give Kansas the benefit of the doubt, and compare the two states on an equal basis.

Let us lay aside the senseless vap-orings of the petty politician who makes extravagant claims without an official record to back his reckless statements, and revert now to the correct figures upon the official records. We take the various sums of money for the current expenses
of each year of statehood as they have been appropriated by the state legislature, as not a dollar of money can be taken from the taxpayers or, from the special revenues of the state except by legislative appropriation. It is also understood that the legislative appropriations have been made for the years 1909, 1910 and 1911. We speak of these fiscal years, it being understood that each fiscal year ends June 30th of the year named.

penses of the state government for each year as follows:

928.288.
160.226.
058.539.

Total for the three year, $6,147,053.
While these years vary slightly in the total for the year, the average for each of the three years would be two million forty-nine thousand and eighteen dollars. I also call your attention to the fact that we have included in each of these three years the sum of fifty-eight thousand four hundred dollar interest money on state bonds as hereinafter mentioned, largely issued to pay old Oklahoma Territory debts, and therefore, it is really not a part of the current expense of state government, but to be liberal with our critics we have treated it so.

Respects to McNeal.

Mr. McNeal says he wants a business administration. I say so do we.
Mr. McNeal wants it in favor of the special interests.

We want it in favor of the common people.

But, specifically speaking, here is some of the things that Mr. McNeal takes exception to: He opposes the state's tender care of the unfortunate insane, the feeble minded, the deaf mutes, the blind and the orphans. He says we do entirely too much for them. Gentlemen when the time comes in Oklahoma whenever any honest taxpayer has possessed him-
not bleed with sympathy for this unfortunate class—if the time ever comes that our honest citizen will not share his daily bread with this class, then I want no longer to call myself an Oklahoman.

Mr. McNeal says we are wasting money on our agricultural educational institutions. Why, Says Joseph McNeal, let every fellow learn to farm for himself. "I did," says Joseph.
Yes, but my fellow citizens, the kind of farming that Mr. McNeal learned to do does not sow the grain nor does it perform the labor of reaping the grain. His agricultural education solely qualified him not to farm the farm, but to farm the farmer. It is true that during his fifteen years of experience as president of one of the Guthrie banks he did reap greatly from the harvest fields, but it was by the thirty or forty per cent route for loaning money and not by the cultivation of the field.

Again, Mr. McNeal says that our state educational institutions, our universities, our normals, our girls industrial schools, our schools of mines and other educational institutions, to qualify our young for professional, mechanical and educational pursuits are a wasteful expenditure of public money. He says "stop education at the public expense at the eighth grade," and then, striking himself on his swollen chest with his two clenched fists, he says "that is as far in school as I ever got." This latter proposition we are not inclined to dispute, but his principle of opposition to education is one that the people of Oklahoma should not approve.

But let my hearers, whether you be democrat or republican, weigh this circumstance in connection with the charges. There were plenty of able republicans in the House of Representatives to formulate these charges if they had cared to do so, but the truth develops that Judge Burford, the attorney for the Standard Oil company, wrote out the charges himself.

He is not a member of the house of representatives. Please let him rise and explain, or let his associate Mr. McNeal, explain for him, why the Standard Oil company was so interested in slandering this administration as to furnish an attorney free of charge to draw this criticism of

Personal Extravagance.

Oh! this extravagance! Here it is simmered down to figures that I hope you will not overlook. In a recent speech to an audience, Governor Ferguson referred to the extravagance of the Governor of Oklahoma in the great amount of the taxpayers' money that he uses for personal expenses. He gave no figures. He knew the truth, but the truth would not make a good story.

the official records of the state audi-
Assistant Auditor of State, which shows that in thirty months of statehood the personal expenses of the governor paid by the taxpayers of the state amounted to ninety-two dollars, equal to three dollars and eight cents per month.

to compare personal expenses of a governor, let me refresh his own memory by referring again to the fact that while he was governor of Oklahoma Territory, he saw fit for his own personal enjoyment to attend the St. Louis Fair for a week or
so. He took with him at the expense of the taxpayers the members of his military staff, and the expenses of the whole bunch was paid out of the pockets of the taxpayers of Oklahoma Territory, and the vouchers showed that the amount was one thousand four hundred and seventeen dollars.

What a glorious time the taxpayers of Oklahoma must have had at that
St. Louis Fair!

bucket compared with the personal expenses and the extravagant waste for foolish pomp and parade of Governor Ferguson's personal and staff entertainments.

The News regrets that it is unable
for a more masterly treatise on the first administration of Oklahoma has never been heard in this state. He
with the many republican territorial administrations previous to statehood which, undoubtedly, would convince any sensible person that the republicans have no claims for future power if they base such claims upon their past record in Oklahoma. He pointed out where republican candidates had maliciously misrepresented the record of his administration and by comparative figures showed conclusively that his administration had excelled any previous republican record in Oklahoma, both in economy justice. He offered a reward to any republican candidate for governor who would show, where there is a single republican state in the union with more than one million population that had run as economically as had Oklahoma under its first administration. He laid down many propositions for ex-Governor Ferguson to answer in his address of the

weather forbade an audience for the ex-governor.

NOR IS AN EDITOR, FRA-
TERNALLY VISITS NEWS.

morning for a speaking engagement at Sulphur, after having been in Ada since yesterday. The governor's prominence is by the encumbrance of the governorship of Oklahoma for four years preceding statehood and his subsequent intelligent association as a private citizen with the affairs of this state of general public interest.

fraternity of Oklahoma editors and though he was invited to visit the
found his way in, even to this demo-

Judge Will Hart, republican state
committeeman for this county, Hons.
A. H. Constant and J. W. Beard, chairman and secretary of the county republican central committee, had billed Governor Ferguson for a speech last evening and unquestion-ably a large audience would have heard him had not the hail storm
and the funnel-shaped cloud in the southwest, which insistently pointed this way, until late in the evening, caused the streets to become deserted for the storm cells.

The governor's prominence, the fact that he could not address the people of Ada, as his supporters so much desired, and for other reasons entirely consistent with a good democratic paper, the writer insisted that he contribute an expression regarding whatever he saw fit for the columns of this paper.

Governor Ferguson said the following to the editor:

"Not having had an opportunity to visit the citizens of this community in the past, I had been very anxious to become better acquainted and place before the people here some of the propositions upon which I am mak-
for governor.

itics, good government and the highest ideals possible in public service. I believe that the public administration should be strictly along business lines and it would be my utmost endeavor, if nominated and elected, to give a business administration. I am making the campaign upon my record as governor of Oklahoma Territory.

"I did not hear Governor Haskell's speech on yesterday afternoon, but have been informed that he devoted some time to my administration, calling attention to certain details relative to bills approved by myself while governor of Oklahoma. I would have been gratified to have had an opportunity to answer his speech in reference to myself and would have shown that every bill which he criticized as having received my approval was drawn against an appropriation made for the specific purpose for which the warrant was issued. There were some criticisms which I should have urged against
the governor's in relation to a number of bills which he had approved during his administration, and in this connection, I desire to state that I am not making a personal campaign against the governor, nor against any
of my opponents for the nomination.
A man's private character is his private property, his public acts are public property and, as such, are subject to criticism or commendation as the case may be.

come when personal attacks, vituperation and mudslinging will be eliminated from the political arena; such work is not in keeping with the true
indulged by any political party. As I view it, the figures which I am giving in my speeches are taken from the public records, and can be
false figures, for two reasons, at least; in the first place, it would be wrong; in the second place, it would be bad politics, because the people
generally know what is going on in public affairs.

the coming election, I sincerely hope

Expects to Lose Morgan District, to Break Even in McGuire Dis-
Ferris Districts.

Tishomingo, Okla., May 20.—Hon.
Wm. H. Murray, (Alfalfa Bill) president of the constitutional convention and speaker of the first house of representatives, and democratic candidate for governor, returned yesterday from his trip through the third congressional district. When approached by your reporter as to the outlook he said:

gressional district, which I have canvassed, going into every county, a section of country in which have never before been or made a speech except at four places, I did not expect to do more than lose that district by 5000 votes. Now I feel that I will break even. While some of the larger towns in the western part of that district I will lose I know that I will carry two thirds of all the votes in some of the other counties.
I expect to break even in the primaries in the McGuire district, and to lose the Morgan district by from
rying the Carter district by 8000 and the Farris district by upward of 6000. I found in the third congressional district that every delegate
for me except perhaps one, and my understanding is that he is, but am not sure of it. I am thoroughly satisfied with my canvass there and I hope to be equally so in my trip dur-
central and north central portion of the state."

OWN WIPED OFF THE MAP

OWN OF McCARTY DESTROYED

etically No More—Everything Down and Three Killed.

Pauls Valley, Ok., May 20.—Maysville, a small town fifteen miles north here, was nearly all swept away and destroyed this evening and several persons were killed, according to reports tonight.

The town of McCarty, near Maysville, was nearly all swept away and destroyed this evening and several persons were killed. All wires were down and details can not be learned. Relief parties probably will be sent out tonight.

One of the hardest hailstorms in the history of this section swept over a stretch of country near here this evening, in places practically obliterating all signs of vegetation.

BIG RAIN AND HAIL STORM IN SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio, Tex., May 20.—An inch rain, accompanied by a bad hailstorm fell in San Antonio this afternoon.

The hail was sufficient to do great damage to crops near San Antonio. The truck gardens were beaten into the ground and cotton and corn practically destroyed. The hail was confined to a small territory adjacent to the city. In some places the hailstones were exceptionally large. Houston and other streets were white with it.

The rain was general, extending from San Marcos to Pearsall on the International and Great Northern and from Houston to Uvalde on the Sunset road.

Most Damage in Suburbs.

Late reports from the suburbs of San Antonio and Bexar county indicate that the storm did damage which will reach to nearly $200,000.

On the Collins gardens, said to be the finest irrigated farm in the world, 300 acres of sweet corn, squash, tomatoes, beans and other vegetables, also a number of fruit trees, were destroyed. F. F. Collins, the owner, estimates the loss at $100 an acre, or $30,000. Probably 1,000 acres of irrigated vegetables were destroyed. The loss from that source alone would be over $100,000.

Mortuary.

Little Eula Gladys Hargis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hargis, died this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. She had suffered a relapse of measles and had been seriously ill for several days. Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. Stubblefield officiating.

The News extends sympathy to the grief stricken parents and family.

Bank Robbers Caught.

It is reported that another man alleged to have been connected with the bank robbery at Wapanucka recently has been captured at Coalgate.

Street Paving.

Since loads of sand are already on the ground, the rock will be here by Monday, and the city engineer says that the work of putting down will begin in earnest probably Monday, not later than Tuesday anyway.

Mack Burris on Bond.

Mack Burris who was arrested on the charge of killing Tecumseh Brown near Stonewall a short time ago was released yesterday on making a $5,000 bond.

BAPTIST REVIVAL BEGINS TOMORROW

A LEADING REVIVALIST OF BAPTIST DENOMINATION WILL ASSIST PASTOR STUBBLEFIELD.

Dr. A. J. Harris, pastor of the leading Baptist church of Fort Worth and who is distinguished as a revivalist will arrive Monday for the purpose of assisting Rev. Stubblefield in the conduct of a protracted meeting.

The Rev. Stubblefield expresses much confidence that there will be a good meeting. There is much assurance that there will be a large attendance from the beginning for Rev. A. J. Harris is personally well known to a large number of Ada people and he has the reputation of being one of the leading preachers of the Baptist denomination.

The protracted meeting will be opened tomorrow at eleven o'clock by Rev. Stubblefield. The pastor requests the News to state that all the people accessible are cordially invited to attend the protracted meeting services.

MILLIONS ATTEND KING'S FUNERAL

Pageantry That Marked the Burial of Victoria Naught Compared With Late King's.

London, May 20.—Sovereigns and representatives of the Powers of all the world paid last tribute today to England's great monarch. Edward VII whose body now rests in St. George's Chapel at Windsor Castle, where the bones of Edward IV., sixth and eighth Henrys, Charles I., the third and fourth Georges and William IV. are entombed.

Bright sunshine followed a night of thunderstorms that swept the city and soaked the funeral decorations of royal purple, the half-masted flags and the wreaths of evergreen and flowers that hung along the line of march, but had no deterrent effect on the gathering thousands, who from midnight until dawn sought points of vantage from which to watch the passing of the cortege.

London's millions filled the streets and open places as they have never been filled, either at a funeral or at a festival. All the pageantry that marked the burial of Victoria was as naught when compared with the magnificence of today's spectacle, which thought it passed through a multitude of hushed people, reverently bent, was splendid in accompaniment of gilded coaches, brilliant uniforms and decorations.

Far surpassing the ceremony attending the removal of the King's body from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Hall, the procession today included nine sovereigns, the former President of the United States Theodore Roosevelt, who alone was unarrayed in uniforms, the heirs to several thrones, the members of the royal families, the members of the households, the officials of the government, Field Marshals, Generals and Admirals whose names are synonymous with Britain's achievements in war, detachments of troops of all the British arms and representatives of foreign armies and navies in variegated uniforms, making a solid phalanx of glittering colors.

The Hail Yesterday.

The hail storm yesterday was somewhat fierce for a few minutes and some healthy hail stones were picked up, but as yet there has been no report of material damage.

If it is a home in Ada you want. See the Weaver Agency.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

Asbury Methodist.

There will be services at 11 o'clock and evening at 8:15. Everybody invited to come and worship with us. Strangers always welcomed.

First Presbyterian Church.

The subject at the morning hour will be, "Limitations of Christian Responsibility." And at 8:00 p. m. it will be, "Weapons of Sin Turned to Instruments of Righteousness." "What Shall the Harvest Be," will be sung as a special number at the evening service.

J. D. WHITE, Pastor.

First Methodist Church.

Sunday being set apart as the World's Sunday school day, a rally service will be held at the First Methodist church. Sunday school at regular hour, which will continue into the regular 11 o'clock service. Special music, appropriate, will be rendered by the Sunday school. Prof. Briles will address the congregation at 11 o'clock.

Prof. R. C. Sears kindly accepted an invitation from the pastor to preach at the evening hour.

Christian Church.

Sunday school, 9:45. Brotherhood class will discuss—(1) How far should a man yield to public opinion? (2) Should a man keep or break a bad promise?

At the 11 o'clock hour the pastor will speak on "The church and church membership." Duet and chorus, male voices. Evening hour subject, "The audience at the cross." Solo, "Let me gaze on the cross," Miss Gertrude Thompson. We want to urge that you cultivate the church habit. Suppose you break away from the old habit and attend church Sunday. We will be glad to see you and you're just one time a stranger.

LEROY M. ANDERSON, Pastor.

SENATOR OWEN WOULD BUILD $50,000 FEDERAL BUILDING

Muskogee, Okla., May 19.—An appropriation of $500,000 for a federal building at Muskogee was asked today by the senate committee on public buildings by Senator Owen. He declared that official figures as furnished by the treasury department showed that 30,000 square feet of floor space was necessary and that the secretary of the treasury himself has recommended an outlay of $550,000 for a federal building at Muskogee. The enormous railroad concentration and the high development of oil and gas around Muskogee was also cited in support of his contention. Senator Owen declared that Oklahoma today was producing more oil than the whole United States ten years ago. He said the city had grown from a hamlet of 4,000 in 1900 to $15,000 in 1907 and 30,000 today. The committee is expected to make its report next Wednesday.

THE EVENING NEWS

DEVOTED TO MAKING ADA A LARGER AND MORE PROGRESSIVE CITY

VOLUME 7

ADA, OKLAHOMA, SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 21, 1910

On Friday, the city of Ada and considerable representations from portions throughout the county gave over to democratic visitors who preached the virtues of democracy and presented claims for office in the future. It was democratic day in Ada.

Large delegations arrived on the morning trains from points throughout the county and by 11 o'clock, at which hour the governor and party arrived, there were hundreds of people thronging the streets. The reception committee, with band, met Governor Haskell at the train and a carriage escorted the Governor and Mrs. Haskell through Main street to the auditorium where an immense crowd awaited to hear his address on law enforcement. The route through Main street was featured by the student body and faculty of the East Central Normal lining the sidewalk and cheering vociferously the governor's carriage as it passed. The college yell played its part, too.

On reaching the Auditorium, the governor was escorted to the rostrum, where he was received by the reception committee of the W. C. T. U., where they were seated. The governor was introduced by President Briles, of the Normal in appropriate remarks and for forty-five minutes Governor Haskell made a genuine straight from the shoulder law enforcement and prohibition speech. He deplored that people would criticize their county officers and yet would and had, during their term, refused to co-operate and encourage them in the performance of their duties. He dwelt at length on doctrine of personal rights and made unanswerable points to show that where public and private interests conflicted the private must yield to the public or community interests. He stated that the home was the fundamental unit of government, that where a condition sought to disturb or demoralize the home it should be remedied or prohibited. If the state of drunkenness better fits a man for life's duties, God would have had him born drunk, but as man was born sober, it is reasonable to believe that it while in this state man can best conserve his own interests and interests of the community.

In the afternoon, democracy had its inning. The large auditorium was filled to its capacity at 2 o'clock when Capt. Fisher called the house to order, introducing Judge Leslie Maxie, who introduced the number of candidates for state offices who were here in the interest of their candidacy. Those present were: W. H. L. Campbell, candidate for clerk of supreme court, Gordon and Taylor, candidates for the same office, M. E. Trapp and Bob Dyalop, candidates for state treasurer, W. F. Gilmer, for state auditor, Hon. Clint Graham, for attorney general, Leo Meyer, for secretary of state, Hon. Tucker and Senator Strange, candidates for corporation commissioner, Chas. K. Taylor, present examiner and inspector, candidate for reelection. These gentlemen were given three minutes in which to present their claims before the democratic voters.

Today, we, of Pontotoc county are honored by the presence of distinguished guests, and before I proceed with the pleasant duty of presenting the speaker of the day, I desire to call attention to the presence of the governor's wife, Mrs. C. N. Haskell, and on behalf of the city, especially the ladies, I desire to bid her welcome. I am quite well acquainted with Mrs. Haskell and I want to say to you, confidentially, that she writes all of the governor's speeches.

It is an esteemed privilege to present to you, my friends, not only the governor of Oklahoma, but a man whose life and activities have been so vividly associated with the making of this commonwealth and who, during the brief history of Oklahoma, has so ably led the democratic party to victory and control and who, as you will soon observe, is capable of convincing the doubtful mind that the first administration of Oklahoma, the administration of Oklahoma democracy, has creditably administered the duties entrusted by a confiding and intelligent suffrage. It is easily discerned that out of chaos and disorder, wrought by republican control, there has been produced a commonwealth which reflects honor and credit in the realm of free government.

Is what gives all clothes style and permanency of shape; it is the vital feature of clothes making and without it any garment will soon lose its shape.

are well tailored throughout. They have a graceful, pleasing shape that is worked into the garments as they are made and which guarantees permanent and lasting style.

This season is a lively one in the variety of weaves and patterns. Gray seems to lead, plain grays, checks, stripes, plaids, all sorts of mixtures; also a big range of good blues in all patterns, some lined and half lined, some silk lined. The pants, some are plain, others in half peg and some full peg with a 3 inch turn at bottom.

Suits from $10, $15, $20, $25

We are sure we can save you from $5 to $10 on every suit you get here.

C. R. DRUMMOND, Clothier and Furnisher, Ada, Okla.

By way of digression, I would like to say right here to my republican or socialist friends, who perchance, may be hopeful of the future, that you had just as well endeavor to disturb the foundation of Gibraltar's rock as to supplant democracy in Oklahoma with modern republicanism. My memory of Chas. N. Haskell in the constitutional convention inspires admiration and respect, for he led in the writing of that document of human rights which represents the conviction of a people who love freedom and equality. Because he championed the magna charta of Oklahoma, because he bore the tremendous responsibility as its chief executive, of launching a modern state. Because he has brought order and system out of republican debris and ruin. Because he led in the battle to strike from our limbs the shackles of republican despotism, I take pleasure in presenting to you Governor Chas. N. Haskell, of Oklahoma.

There are some people in Oklahoma with whom I do not agree as to the purposes of government. By their practices for 17 years in Oklahoma Territory they demonstrated the fact that they believed the purposes of government was to furnish jobs for little bunches of grafters. My notion of government is, it is for the purpose of furnishing a great mass of people with the protection that the common people need against the invasion of the strong, the powerful, those who have lived from the products of your toil. I do not divide the human family by political lines, I divide them entirely different.

From years of observation, I cannot avoid the conclusion, however, that there are two great classes of American citizenship. The first class I would call the producing class. It includes not the farmer alone, but the mechanic, the business man, the professional man, in so far as their policy of life is to live upon their own industry, those who are willing by their muscle, or genius or education to apply those powers and be satisfied with the returns therefrom.

I do not seek to array the producing class against the parasite, but to destroy the parasite class you must destroy the opportunities that enable him to exist. I do not consider that it is the policy of a just government to legalize grand larceny. If these are the two great classes of our people, then we must admit the foolishness of the producing class dividing their power, thereby per-

spect at home.

proval. Then will both political parties according to their sincere judgment seek to produce.

cost.

ernment on less money than Okla-
equal basis.

Let us lay aside the senseless vaporings of the petty politician who
correct figures upon the official records. We take the various sums
have been made for the years 1909, 1910 and 1911. We speak of these dis-
the year named.

each year as follows:

923,293.

160,226.

058,589.

Respects to McNeal.

Mr. McNeal says he wants a business administration. I say so do we.
special interests.

mon people.

mute, the blind and the orphans. He
myself an Oklahoman.

Mr. McNeal says we are wasting
farm for himself. "I did," says Joseph.
field.

climbed fists, he says "that is as
prove.

truth develops that Judge Burford,
the attorney of record in the courts at Guthrie for the Standard Oil com-
self.

Mr. McNeal, explain for him, why the
ested in slandering this administra-

Personal Extravagance.

make a good story.

cents per month.

dollars.

of Oklahoma must have had at that
St. Louis Fair!

entertainments.

pointed out where republican candidates had maliciously misrepresented the record of his administration and by comparative figures showed conclusively that his administration had excelled any previous re-
propositions for ex-Governor Ferguson to answer in his address of the
ex-governor.

nence is by the incumbency of the

A. H. Constant and J. W. Beard,
caused the streets to become deserted for the storm cells.

umns of this paper.

lowing to the editor:

propositions upon which I am mak-
for governor.

est ideals possible in public service. I believe that the public ad-
homa Territory.

as the case may be.

public affairs.

the coming election, I sincerely hope

MY DOCTOR MIGHTY FINE

Mrs. Hattie Cain of Carrsville Thinks all the More of Her Doctor Since He Advised
Her to Take Cardui.

Carrsville, Ky.—"My doctor," writes Mrs. Hattie Cain, "who advised me to take Cardui, for my troubles, is a mighty fine doctor, and I say God bless Cardui and the people who make it.

"Before I took Cardui, I suffered with female troubles for sixteen years. I would have to send for a doctor every three months, and oh! how dreadfully I suffered!

"I would cramp and have convulsions and it looked like I would die. At last I took Cardui—and oh! what a surprise! I found it was the medicine for me!

and now I am well, can do more work, can walk and go where I please and it doesn't hurt me, and I owe it all to Cardui."

Cardui helps sick women back to health. It has been doing this for over 50 years. It is not a laxative, or a heart or kidney medicine—it is a woman's medicine.

If you are a woman, try it.

that it will result for the best inof good citizenship, good government and the general public welfare."

Farris Districts.

Wm. H. Murray, (Alfalfa Bill) president of the constitutional conven-
outlook he said:

the Farris district by upward of

IN OF McCARTY DESTROYED

Not a More—Everything Down and Three Killed.

Pauls Valley, Ok., May 20—Maysville, a small town fifteen miles north here, was wiped off the map by a tornado this evening and several persons were killed, according to reports tonight

The town of McCarty, near Maysville, was nearly all swept away and three persons were killed. All wires were down and details can not be learned. Relief parties probably will be sent out tonight

One of the hardest hailstorms in the history of this section swept over a stretch of country near here this evening, in places practically obliterating all signs of vegetation

San Antonio, Tex., May 20—An inch rain, accompanied by a bad hailstorm fell in San Antonio this afternoon

The hail was sufficient to do great damage to crops near San Antonio. The truck gardens were beaten into the ground and cotton and corn practically destroyed. The hail was confined to a small territory adjacent to the city in some places the hailstones were exceptionally large

Houston and other streets were white with it

The rain was general extending from San Marcos to Pecos on the International and Great Northern and from Houston to Uvalde on the Sunset road

On the Collins gardens, said to be the finest irrigated farm in the world 300 acres of sweet corn, squash tomatoes beans and other vegetables also a number of fruit trees, were destroyed F F Collins the owner, estimates the loss at $100 an acre or $30,000. Probably 1,000 acres of irrigated vegetables were destroyed. The loss from that source alone would be over $100,000

Mortuary.

Little Eula Gladys Hargis daughter of Mr and Mrs C C Hargis died this afternoon at 2 15 o'clock. She had suffered a relapse of measles and had been seriously ill for several days. Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev Stubblefield officiating

The Rev Stubblefield expresses much confidence that there will be a good meeting. There is much assurance that there will be a large attendance from the beginning for Rev A J Harris is personally well known to a large number of Ada people and he has the reputation of being one of the leading preachers of the Baptist denomination

Paganry That Marked the Burial of Victoria Naught Compared With Late King's.

London, May 20—Sovereigns and representatives of the Powers of all the world paid last tribute today to England's great monarch Edward VII whose body now rests in St George's Chapel at Windsor Castle, where the bones of Edward IV, sixth and eighth Henrys Charles I the third and fourth Georges and William IV are entombed

Bright sunshine followed a night of thunderstorms that swept the city and soaked the funeral decorations of royal purple, the half-masted flags and the wreaths of evergreen and flowers that hung along the line of march, but had no deterrent effect on the gathering thousands, who from midnight until dawn sought points of vantage from which to watch the passing of the cortege

Far surpassing the ceremony attending the removal of the King's body from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Hall, the procession today included nine sovereigns, the former President of the United States Theodore Roosevelt, who alone was unarrayed in uniforms, the heirs to several thrones, the members of the royal families, the members of the households the officials of the government Field Marshals Generals and Admirals whose names are synonymous with Britain's achievements in war, detachments of troops of all the British arms and representatives of foreign armies and navies in variegated uniforms, making a solid phalanx of glittering colors

The Hall Yesterday.

Muskogee, Okla., May 19—An appropriation of $500,000 for a federal building at Muskogee was asked today by the senate committee on public buildings by Senator Owen. He declared that official figures as furnished by the treasury department showed that 30,000 square feet of floor space was necessary and that the secretary of the treasury himself has recommended an outlay of $550,000 for a federal building at Muskogee. The enormous railroad concentration and the high development of oil and gas around Muskogee was also cited in support of his contention. Senator Owen declared that Oklahoma today was producing more oil than the whole United States ten years ago. He said the city had grown from a hamlet of 4,000 in 1900 to 15,000 in 1907 and 30,000 today. The committee is expected to make its report next Wednesday

Anadarko After a Big Park.
Washington, D. C., May 19.—Anadarko may be permitted to purchase 400 acres of public land north of the city, as a result of a bill offered in the house today by Representative Morgan. The land is wanted for park and industrial purposes. L. E. McKnight, E. B. Telt and W. D. Mills, who are here representing Anadarko, say that the city is prepared to pay the appraised value of the property in order to acquire title. Preference right to buy the land is granted Anadarko by the terms of the Morgan bill. W. M. Westfall, the well-known Oklahoma city druggist is in Washington as a delegate to the Sunday school convention. Mr. Westfall called at the capital today and paid his respects to the Oklahoma congressional delegation.

On Friday, the city of Ada and considerable representations from portions throughout the county gave over to democratic visitors who preached the virtues of democracy and presented claims for office in the future. It was democratic day in Ada.

Large delegations arrived on the morning trains from points throughout the county and by 11 o'clock, at which hour the governor and party arrived, there were hundreds of people thronging the streets. The reception committee, with band, met Governor Haskell at the train and a carriage escorted the Governor and Mrs. Haskell through Main street to the aldrome where an immense crowd awaited to hear his address on law enforcement. The route through Main street was featured by the student body and faculty of the East Central Normal lining the sidewalk and cheering vociferously the governor's carriage as it passed. The college yell played a part, too.

On reaching the Aldrome, the governor was escorted to the rostrum, where he was received by the reception committee of the W. C. T. U., where they were seated. The governor was introduced by President Briles, of the Normal in appropriate remarks and for forty-five minutes Governor Haskell made a genuine, straight from the shoulder law enforcement and prohibition speech. He deplored that people would criticize their county officers and yet would and had, during their term, refused to co-operate and encourage them in the performance of their duties. He dwelt at length on doctrine of personal rights and made unanswerable points to show that where public and private interests conflicted the private must yield to the public or community interests. He stated that the home was the fundamental unit of government, that where a condition sought to disturb or demoralize the home it should be remedied or prohibited. "If the state of drunkenness between fits a man for life's duties, God

In the afternoon, democracy had its inning. The large auditorium was filled to its capacity at 2 o'clock when Capt. Fisher called the house to order, introducing Judge Leslie Maxie, who introduced the number of candidates for state offices who were here in the interest of their candidacy. Those present were: W. H. L. Campbell, candidate for clerk of supreme court, Gordon and Taylor, candidates for the same office; M. E. Trapp and Bob Dunlop, candidates for state treasurer; W. F. Gilmer, for state auditor; Hon. Clint Graham, for attorney General; Leo Meyer, for secretary of state; Hon. Tucker and Senator Strange, candidates for corporation commissioner; Chas. K. Taylor, present examiner and inspector, candidate for reelection. These gentlemen were given three minutes in which to present their claims before the democratic voters.

Today, we, of Pontotoc county, are honored by the presence of distinguished guests, and before I proceed with the pleasant duty of presenting the speaker of the day, I desire to call attention to the presence of the governor's wife, Mrs. C. N. Haskell, and on behalf of the city, especially the ladies, I desire to bid her welcome. I am quite well acquainted with Mrs. Haskell, and I want to say to you, confidentially, that she writes all of the governor's speeches.

It is an esteemed privilege to present to you, my friends, not only the governor of Oklahoma, but a man whose life and activities have been so vividly associated with the making of this commonwealth and who, during the brief history of Oklahoma, has so ably led the democratic party to victory and control, and who, as you will soon observe, is capable of convincing the doubtful mind that the first administration of Oklahoma, the administration of Oklahoma democracy, has creditably administered the duties entrusted by a confiding and intelligent suffrage. It is easily discerned that out of chaos and disorder, wrought by republican control, there has been produced a commonwealth which reflects honor and credit in the realm of free government.

Is what gives all clothes style and permanency of shape; it is the vital feature of clothes making and without it any garment will soon lose its shape.

C. R. DRUMMOND, Clothier and Furrisher, Ada, Okla.

By way of digression, I would like to say right here to my republican or socialist friends, who, perchance, may be hopeful of the future, that you had just as well endeavor to disturb the foundation of Gibraltar's rock as to supplant democracy in Oklahoma with modern republicanism. My memory of Chas. N. Haskell in the constitutional convention inspires admiration and respect, for he led in the writing of that document of human rights which represents the conviction of a people who love freedom and equality. Because he championed the magna charta of Oklahoma, because he bore the tremendous responsibility as its chief executive, of launching a modern state. Because he has brought order and system out of republican debris and ruin. Because he led in the battle to strike from our limbs the shackles of republican despotism, I take pleasure in presenting to you Governor Chas. N. Haskell, of Oklahoma.

There are some people in Oklahoma with whom I do not agree as to the purposes of government. By their practices for 17 years in Oklahoma Territory they demonstrated the fact that they believed the purposes of government was to furnish jobs for little bunches of grafters. My notion of government is, it is for the purpose of furnishing a great mass of people with the protection that the common people need against the invasion of the strong, the powerful, those who have lived from the products of your toil. I do not divide the human family by political lines, I divide them entirely different.

From years of observation, I cannot avoid the conclusion, however, that there are two great classes of American citizenship. The first class I would call the producing class. It includes not the farmer alone, but the mechanic, the business man, the professional man, in so far as their policy of life is to live upon their own industry, those who are willing by their muscle, or genius or education to apply those powers and be satisfied with the returns therefrom.

I do not seek to array the producing class against the parasite, but to destroy the parasite class you must destroy the opportunities that enable him to exist. I do not consider that it is the policy of a just government to legalize grand larceny. If these are the two great classes of our people, then we must admit the foolishness of the producing class dividing their power, thereby per-

We cannot close our eyes in Oklahoma today to the fact that the republican party of our state has had the will of its multitude of members of fair mind and intent thwarted by the strangle hold of the remnants of the old machine, whose reign in Territorial days was a scene of graft by day and revelry by night. So long as their dictation is present in

spect at home.
ties with legislative and judicial ap-
Cost of State Government.
cost.
with the necessities of government,
ernment on less money than Okla-
equal basis.
Let us lay aside the senseless va-
legislature, as not a dollar of money can be taken from the taxpay-
have been made for the years 1909, 1910 and 1911. We speak of these fiscal years, it being understood that
the year named.
each year as follows:
923,238
For year ending June 30, 1910, $2,- 160,226
For year ending June 30, 1911, $2,- 059,539
Total for the three years, $6,147,033
state bonds as heretofore mentioned,
Respects to McNeal.
Mr. McNeal says he wants a business administration. I say so do we.
Mr. McNeal wants it in favor of the special interests.

mon people.
But, specifically speaking, here is
myself an Oklahoman.
Mr. McNeal says we are wasting
farm for himself. "I did," says Joseph
field.
prove.
at Guthrie for the Standard Oil com-
self.
of representatives. Please let him
Mr. McNeal, explain for him, why the
ested in slandering this administra-
Personal Extravagance.
simmered down to figures that I hope
great amount of the taxpayers' money that he uses for personal ex-
make a good story.
cents per month.
tend the St. Louis Fair for a week or
pockets of the taxpayers of Okla-
dollars.
of Oklahoma must have had at that
St. Louis Fair!
for foolish pomp and parade of Gov-
entertainments.
outperformed the present administration
any sensible person that the re-

didates had maliciously misrepresented the record of his administra-
ed conclusively that his administra-
ex-governor.

this state of general public interest.
committeeman for this county, Hons
A. H. Constant and J. W. Beard chairman and secretary of the county republican central committee, had
ed for the storm cellars.
ing whatever he saw fit for the columns of this paper.
Governor Ferguson said the following to the editor:
propositions upon which I am mak-
for governor.
homa Territory.
sued. There were some criticisms
A man's private character is his private property, his public acts are
as the case may be.
public affairs.
the coming election, I sincerely hope

Mrs. Hattie Cain, "who advised me

and the people who make it.
suffered!

Ferris Districts.

Wm. H. Murray, (Alfalfa Bill) president of the constitutional conven-
outlook he said:
the Ferris district by upward of 6000. I found in the third congressional district that every delegate

STONEMAN SWEPT AWAY LAST EVENING—SEVERAL PEOPLE KILLED.

TOWN OF McCARTY DESTROYED

Practically No More—Everything Down and Three Killed.

Pauls Valley, Ok., May 20—Maysville, a small town fifteen miles north here, was wiped off the map by a tornado this evening and several persons were killed, according to reports tonight
 One of the hardest hailstorms in the history of this section swept over a stretch of country near here this evening, in places practically obliterating all signs of vegetation

San Antonio, Tex., May 20—An inch rain, accompanied by a bad hailstorm fell in San Antonio this afternoon The hail was sufficient to do great damage to crops near San Antonio The truck gardens were beaten into the ground and cotton and corn practically destroyed The hail was confined to a small territory adjacent to the city in some places the hailstones were exceptionally large Houston and other streets were white with it

The rain was general extending from San Marcos to Pearland on the International and Great Northern and from Houston to Uvalde on the Sunset road

Truck gardens, many of which were under irrigation flower gardens and shrubbery were beaten into the ground

On the Collins gardens, said to be the finest irrigated farm in the world 300 acres of sweet corn, squash tomatoes beans and other vegetables also a number of fruit trees, were destroyed F F Collins the owner, estimates the loss at $100 an acre or $30,000 Probably 1,000 acres of irrigated vegetables were destroyed The loss from that source alone would be over $100,000

Mortuary.

Little Eula Gladys Hargis daughter of Mr and Mrs C C Hargis died this afternoon at 2 15 o'clock She had suffered a relapse of measles and had been seriously ill for several days Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev Stubblefield officiating

Dr A J Harris, pastor of the leading Baptist church of Fort Worth and who is distinguished as a revivalist will arrive Monday for the purpose of assisting Rev Stubblefield in the conduct of a protracted meeting

The Rev Stubblefield expresses much confidence that there will be a good meeting There is much assurance that there will be a large attendance from the beginning for Rev A J Harris is personally well known to a large number of Ada people and he has the reputation of being one of the leading preachers of the Baptist denomination

London, May 20—Sovereigns and representatives of the Powers of all the world paid last tribute today to England's great monarch Edward VII whose body now rests in St George's Chapel at Windsor Castle, where the bones of Edward IV, sixth and eighth Henrys Charles I the third and fourth Georges and William IV are entombed

Bright sunshine followed a night of thunderstorms that swept the city and soaked the funeral decorations of royal purple, the half-masted flags and the wreaths of evergreen and flowers that hung along the line of march, but had no deterrent effect on the gathering thousands, who from midnight until dawn sought points of vantage from which to watch the passing of the cortege

Far surpassing the ceremony attending the removal of the King's body from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Hall, the procession today included nine sovereigns, the former President of the United States Theodore Roosevelt, who alone was unarmored in uniform, the heirs to several thrones, the members of the royal families, the members of the households the officials of the government Field Marshals Generals and Admirals whose names are synonymous with Britain's achievements in war, detachments of troops of all the British arms and representatives of foreign armies and navies in variegated uniforms, making a solid phalanx of glittering colors

Muskogee, Okla., May 19—An appropriation of $500,000 for a federal building at Muskogee was asked today by the senate committee on public buildings by Senator Owen He declared that official figures as furnished by the treasury department showed that 30,000 square feet of floor space was necessary and that the secretary of the treasury himself has recommended an outlay of $550,000 for a federal building at Muskogee The enormous railroad concentration and the high development of oil and gas around Muskogee was also cited in support of his contention Senator Owen declared that Oklahoma today was producing more oil than the whole United States ten years ago He said the city had grown from a hamlet of 4,000 in 1900 to $15,000 in 1907 and 30,000 today. The committee is expected to make its report next Wednesday
